Rev. Gary Hill has been serving on the Commission since 2017. He is an ordained and licensed minister with business and nonprofit management experience. He is a former public servant and government contractor, working for NIH for 18 years and contracting with various federal agencies in managerial capacities for another decade. Currently, Rev. Hill is the founding executive director of Exodus Treatment Center, a nonprofit that provides drug education, substance abuse / addiction intervention, mental health services, and recovery support services to low- and moderate-income families in the DMV area. In his spare time, he serves as an advisor to the MPD Commander for the 7th District and the DC Housing Authority's executive office, and as a spiritual advisor to Ward 8 Councilman Trayon White, Sr. and several churches in the area. He is an expert in business development, customer service, marketing, and organizational leadership. Should his renomination be confirmed, Rev. Hill hopes to continue contributing to a district-wide strategy for equitable access to out of school time programs for District youth and resolving any geographic funding and distribution gaps for these programs.

Based on his continued commitment to the mission of the Commission, his civic leadership, and his expertise regarding nonprofits and youth mentorship, the Committee recommends the reappointment of Rev. Hill to the Commission on Out of School Time Grants and Youth Outcomes. The Committee recommends adoption of PR 24-254.

V. SUMMARY OF TESTIMONY

The Committee of the Whole held a public roundtable on four Commission on Out of School Time Grants and Youth Outcomes nominations, including PR 24-254, on Thursday, July 9, 2021. The testimony summarized below is from that hearing. Submitted copies of testimony are attached to this report.

Rev. Gary Hill, Appointee, testified and answered questions from Chairman Mendelson regarding his background and experience as it pertains to the Commission and his interest in serving another term on the Commission.

Rev. Hill explained that in addition to his work at Exodus Treatment Center, he is the senior pastor at its sister entity, Exodus Deliverance Ministry. Throughout the pandemic, his organizations ran COVID testing sites and managed PPE distribution throughout wards 7 and 8. He has also served on a faith-based leadership team focused on preventing gun violence. Throughout his career, he has focused on capacity-building and mentorship. He aims to help youth make better life choices through strategic planning to ensure their long-term success. Rev. Hill's approach to public and community service is grounded in ethics, integrity, and delivering equitable services.

Rev. Hill noted that, during his first term on the Commission, the challenges it faced was building up its momentum, especially in the early months of its existence. Certain specific challenges revolved around finalizing certain official information, especially as the Commission was not meeting weekly. The time lag caused by monthly, instead of weekly, meetings posed a hurdle to the Commission and its members. However, the Commission has since been doing a good job in communities east of the River, according to Rev. Hill, where there is an existing deficit of educational efforts. The Commission has established two committees in particular that he views as essential: the Needs Assessment Committee and the Funding & Capacity Committee. These committees complement individual commissioners' efforts, outside of regular Commission meetings, to obtain feedback from the community regarding OST programs. Rev. Hill explained that the output of these three efforts, when combined in full OST Commission meetings, leverage equity across all eight wards.

Rev. Hill reiterated that he is current on his taxes owed to all jurisdictions, has no conflicts of interest, anticipates no future conflicts of interest, has time to serve, and that the current time he dedicates to the Commission is reasonable.

The Commission on Out of School Time Grants and Youth Outcomes is established pursuant to D.C. Code § 2-1555.02. Good morning Chairman Mendelson and Members of the Committee of the Whole. First, I want to express my sincerest thank you to Mayor Bowser for this nomination to the District's Commission on Out of School Time Grants and Youth Outcomes (Commission). Secondly, I would like to thank the Committee members for holding this hearing and the opportunity to address you today.

My name is Apostle Gary B. Hill. I am submitting this statement on behalf of my 20+ years of experience as a community advocate, non-profit organizer, and an ordained minister. I stand today as a proud graduate from DC Public Schools. I earned an Executive Certificate in Non-Profit Management at Georgetown University and a Bachelor of Arts in Biblical Studies. I am the Executive Director and Founder of Exodus Treatment Center, Inc. (ETC), a 501(c)3 non-profit, community based, Christian organization known for providing high quality services, the Senior Pastor of Exodus Deliverance, and the Overseer/Founder of Exodus Covenant Ministries.

During the COVID-19 global pandemic, Exodus Treatment Center, Inc. was activated as an epicenter under my leadership to provide coronavirus testing, and distribute PPE and food throughout Wards 7, 8 and neighboring communities. I also convene the Project Building Blocks' faith-based leadership team in partnership with DC's Gun Violence Prevention Emergency Operation Center. For my commitment to implement lasting change in the communities I serve, I received the "Be the Solution" award from New Beginnings Leadership Institute.

In addition, I serve as a Commissioner for the Office of Out of School Time Grants and Youth Outcomes for two consecutive years. I partner with smaller nonprofits to strengthen, mentor, and build capacity. Similarly, I serve as an advisor to the 7th District Metropolitan Police Department Commander, DC Housing Authority Executive Office, and community stakeholders.

As a dependable public servant, I advocate for the needs of underserved populations and my organization serves as a connector for District residents, neighboring communities, and government entities. Additionally, through my work I have been able to influence at-risk youth to make better life choices through strategic programming such as the urban institute pass project, exodus girls group in summer camp, and the homework club.

I am extremely interested in being reappointed as a commissioner because the position, although challenging, has given me the opportunity to make a positive impact on a cause I am deeply passionate about. More importantly, it has been a great way to establish collaborative relationships to create a shared vision for academic learning and achievement opportunities.

Looking ahead to the future, I envision all youth living in the District with access to quality education and shared resources, stronger sustainable relationships with the most vulnerable in our communities, and an accessible program at the community level. As a Commissioner, my vision for the Commission is to provide a culture set in acting on all matters, issues and goals with ethics and integrity and to provide equitable services throughout the city. I am confident that my professional and personal background will be an added value to this Commission moving forward.

In closing, thank you for this opportunity to share my testimony with you. I look forward to your confirmation and answering any questions you may have. May the Lord bless you all! Thank you.
