Council Chairman Phil Mendelson announces a public roundtable of the Committee of the Whole on “Special Education Policies for Students with Disabilities”. The roundtable will be held on Wednesday, February 2, 2022 at 11:00 a.m. via Zoom Video Conference Broadcast.

The Office of the State Superintendent of Education (OSSE) provides resources and supports to assist the District's most vulnerable student populations as the needs of students with disabilities vary greatly. Part B of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) requires that students with disabilities be provided a free public special education and related services through an Individualized Education Program (IEP). While this is an important corrective step to best educate students, often students are two or more years behind before they are identified for this program. Also, we know that students in special education are, as a category, among the lowest performers on the PARCC assessment. In 2020, the Council adopted D.C. Law 23-191 to require schools, through OSSE guidance, to identify and remediate reading disorders such as dyslexia. Dyslexia affects roughly twenty percent of the population, as it is the most common of all neuro-cognitive disorders. The purpose of this hearing is to examine how OSSE, DCPS, and other schools are providing adequate special education to ensure that students with disabilities are academically successful.
